

GREAT CHART PRIMARY SCHOOL

PSHE Policy

September 2025

A Great Place to Discover and Learn

Vision Statement

A respectful community where we thrive and achieve our full potential as confident life long learners

Mission Statement

Preparing for life in our ever changing world, by providing opportunities to develop core values and a love of learning

Our core value is Respect

Our termly values: Team work, Ambition, Responsibility, Resilience, Kindness & Independence

Intent

At Great Chart School we recognise that the personal development of pupils, spiritually, morally, socially and culturally, plays a significant part in their ability to learn and achieve. We therefore aim to provide an education that provides pupils with opportunities to explore and develop their own values and beliefs, spiritual awareness, high standards of personal behaviour, a positive, caring attitude towards other people, an understanding of their social and cultural traditions and an appreciation of the diversity and richness of the cultures.

At Great Chart Primary School we strive to provide a 'value based' curriculum, alongside our knowledge/skills based curriculum. These are not 'bolt-on' extras but a strong ethos of school life. We believe that the development of these values can rarely be 'measured'. Sometimes these are easy to identify and plan for, within the curriculum or in the weekly class circle time sessions, but often opportunities happen spontaneously in the context of stimulating discussions or lessons. Staff need to be confident to recognise and 'seize the moment' and take time to reflect with the children on the learning that is taking place.

The four areas of the value based curriculum can be defined as follows:

Spiritual development: relates to an awareness of mystery and wonder through which pupils reflect and require insights into their own personal being and their place in the world.

Moral development: refers to a pupil's understanding, attitudes and behaviour to what is right and what is wrong.

Social development: refers to a pupil's progressive acquisition of the competencies and qualities needed to play a full part in society

Cultural development: refers to a pupils developing understanding of beliefs, values and customs in social, ethnic and national groups different from their own.

In addition to these values that represent part of our PSHE/SMSC curriculum, we also have introduced a set of school values that have been decided on by the children of Great Chart School. These chosen values will encourage the children to "Be the Best You Can Be" and will be introduced at the beginning of the school year as one, before each being the focus of individual terms.

"A Great Place to Discover and Learn Together"

Respect

The core school values are:

- Team Work
- Ambition
- Responsibility
- Resilience
- Kindness
- Independence

The children will be encouraged to keep these values at the forefront of their mind and experience these values through assemblies, circle time and through the teacher infiltrating them into the whole curriculum. It is hoped that through being aware of the importance of these values, the children will leave Great Chart School as responsible citizens of society preparing them for life in Britain and responsible global citizens in the wider world.

Implementation

The ethos of our school is such that all people who come into our school, whether staff, pupil, parent or visitor, are valued as individuals in their own right. They should set, and be entitled to expect from others, good standards of behaviour, marked by respect and responsibility.

The role model standards will be set by the Headteacher and practised by all staff in order to set an effective example for our children. However, we must recognise that the children's development will be affected by many factors other than those which the school itself provides. These include maturity, personality, gender, family, peer group, ethnicity, cultural background and more generally the moral, spiritual and cultural climate of our society and of the communities to which they belong.

Through religious education and acts of Collective Worship, children will be introduced to a broad spectrum of beliefs. They will be encouraged to value other people's opinions and develop a questioning mind across a wide area of the curriculum.

All curriculum areas have a contribution to make to the child's spiritual, moral, social and cultural development and opportunities for this will be planned in each area of the curriculum. These values will also be taught in isolation during the weekly circle time sessions.

To develop personal identity and high levels of motivation.

To develop positive social interaction and the skills to live with, work with and respect others.

All adults will model and promote expected behaviour, treating all people as unique and valuable individuals and showing respect for pupils and their families.

The school community will be a place where pupils can find acceptance for themselves as unique individuals and where forgiveness and the opportunity to start again is fundamental to the ethos of the school.

Pupils should learn to differentiate between right and wrong in as far as their actions affect other people. They will be encouraged to value themselves and others.

Pupils should understand the need for rules and the need to abide by rules for the good of everyone. Pupils are encouraged and expected to follow our school rules of RESPECT. These rules reflect, reiterate, promote and reward acceptable behaviour and provide opportunities to celebrate pupils' work and achievements.

All curriculum areas should seek to use illustrations and examples drawn from as wide a range of cultural contexts as possible. We should celebrate the cultural diversity within our school, both of pupils and parents.

A wider curriculum will be offered, planning and tailor-making opportunities to cater and support the personal and social backgrounds of Great Chart Primary School pupils.

Golden threads throughout this subject are:

- Identity
- Relationships
- Healthy lifestyle
- Risk
- Diversity and equality
- Rights, responsibilities and consent
- Change and resilience
- Power
- Career
